6.4 Equipment and Development

Andreas Bauer

Andreas Bauer reports of the meeting of the sub-committee on 25.09.2024

- suit chipping system was reconfirmed
- tests were carried out in the summer 2024, still ongoing
- suit number limitation was introduced
- limitations were also introduced for COC, I-COC and JWSC
- sanctions for manipulations of equipment in competition and after suit chipping were strengthened
- jumping boots weight rule will be introduced in spring 2025

6.5 Calendar PlanningMario Stecher

- summer season has not finished yet – with 2 events for men, 1 for women to be held
- poor participation from strong nations and big names in the summer series – as a result NSA and Organisers are struggling with competitions budgets
- our ski manufactures are also struggling (disappearance of Fluege.de from the market)
- long jumps should also be awarded with style marks
- presented FIS Development Plan is much appreciated

A. Bauer – hybrid period at the beginning of the winter season is our great advantage, also as far as sustainability goes, unfortunately TV ratings so early in the season are quite low, and thus market share

7. Rule changes

SCE 4

SKI JUMPING SUITS

Athletes are not allowed to manipulate suits after the start control before the jump nor after the jump before the control.

4.5 Suit marking

All jumping suits used in Olympic Winter Games (OWG), FIS World Ski Championships (WSC), FIS Ski Flying World Championships (SFWSC), FIS World Cup (WC) and Grand Prix (GP) series Men and Women must be marked with FIS designated system prior to events.

A set of encoded NFC chips will be dedicated to each suit and the data regarding the name of the athlete and the suit number will be recorded in a designated FIS database.

Encoded NFC chips will be applied to predefined parts of the suit with the use of thermopress.

It is not allowed to replace any parts of the suit after they have been inspected and marked.

Athletes are not allowed to remove or manipulate with the markings.

In case a suit has been manipulated after chipping, it will be deactivated without replacement. Manipulation leads to disqualification of the athlete and any case of deliberate manipulation can be submitted to the appropriate FIS authority for assessment and may result in further consequences and penalties.

All suits used in COC, I-COC and JWSC will be manually marked; each athlete is allowed to use one suit per competition.

SCE 4.3

UNDERWEAR

Once athlete is not using a back protector, it is not allowed to use a T-shirt with pocket.

GUIDELINES

By an athlete's request a re-measuring may occur.

Equipment controller has a right to request a re-measuring of an athlete.

Crotch control

Crotch control can take place before and / or after jump.

Athlete is not allowed to manipulate any equipment before the jump after the control, nor after the jump before the control.

SUIT MARKING

- all suits used in Olympic Winter Games (OWG), FIS World Ski Championships (WSC), FIS Ski Flying World Championships (SFWSC), FIS World Cup (WC) and Grand Prix (GP) series must be marked with FIS designated system prior to events
- only suits inspected and approved by an Equipment Controller will be marked; suits are subject to competition controls in accordance with ICR / SCE rules
- suits will be marked with 7 (for men) and 5 (for women) unique encoded NFC chips applied to the inside suit surface with a thermopress in pre-defined positions
- data for each marked suits – athlete name and suit number will be registered and recorded into designated FIS data base
- each athlete is allowed to register and use limited number of suits per season

SUIT ALLOCATION PERIODS WINTER SEASON 2024/25

- one suit per athlete per period is allowed to be marked, on condition that a given athlete participates in a respective competition period
- with the exception of the first appearance in the World Cup
 - o 1st period of the winter season max 4 suits, max 2 per event are allowed to be marked
 - o any other period max 2 suits are allowed to be marked
- Men events - suit allocation periods correspond with the World Cup competition periods
- Women events - suit allocation periods
 - o 4 winter periods, as follows
winter season 2024/25
 - Period – Lillehammer – Zhangjiakou – Engelberg
 - Period – Garmisch – Oberstdorf – Villach - Sapporo – Zao
 - Period – Willingen – Lake Placid – Ljubno – Hinzenbach
 - Period – Oslo – Vikersund – Lahti
- any suits from summer period/s are allowed to be used also in winter season after they have been rechecked and approved by the controller (without additional quota)

SUIT NUMBER LIMITATION

MARKING

- 3 extra suits for OWG, 2 extra suits for WSC and SFWSC are allowed to be marked

USE

- 2 suits per event, 1 per competition (qualification and competition if carried out on the same day) are allowed to be used in World Cup and Grand Prix events
- 3 suits per OWG and WSC, 2 suits per SFWSC are allowed to be used, 1 per each competition day
- in case a suit is damaged during official jump (official training, trial round, qualification, competition) athlete is allowed to replace the damaged part after it had been inspected and approved by the EC, this has to be reported to the respective FIS Equipment Controller without delay and recorded into the FIS data base
- in specific cases, FIS Equipment Controller has a right to allow the use of a second suit during competition day (rainfall, snowfall, etc.)
- suit marking control can be executed either before and / or after jump
- in case a marked suits had been manipulated (arm and inside leg lengths, permeability, cut of the suit, etc.) after being marked, the Equipment Controller deactivates the chips, and the suit cannot be used anymore or replaced

OTHER SERIES

- all suits used in COC, I-COC and JWSC will be manually marked; each athlete is allowed to use one suit per competition
- in case a suit is damaged during official jump (official training, trial round, qualification, competition) this has to be reported to the respective FIS Equipment Controller without delay, in such a case the Equipment Controller can allow a use of a different suit for the second competition round

- in specific cases, FIS Equipment Controller has a right to allow the use of a second suit during competition day (rainfall, snowfall, etc.)

4.5. Special regulation for Raw Air Tournament 2025

For the last Raw Air competition (Vikersund 16.03.202), all athletes will be allowed to compete for the Qualification Round.

After the Qualification only the best 30 athletes will compete in the final competition of Raw Air.

The format of the final competition includes three rounds:

30 athletes in the first round

20 athletes in the second round (20 best after first round, start list in reverse order after first jump)

10 athletes in the final round (10 best after both first and second rounds), with the reverse order based on the daily ranking after the second round.

After the first Qualification in Oslo, the current Raw Air ranking will be used as the start list for every competition day (Qualifications and Competitions).

Integration Men & Women Ski Jumping

- decision made by FIS Council and communicated to the Jumping Committee during the meeting in Portoroz spring 2024
- main challenges
 - o ongoing contract for NSA/LOC
 - o competition format / duration of event numbers of competitors
 - o evolution of audience interest
 - o fewer World Cup organiser, future normal hill strategy
 - o future of FIS staff

SEASON 2024/2025

- No major changes
- Constant sharing of information
- Common planning for next season

SEASON 2025/2026

- More events together*
- One FIS staff*
- Plan for full integration

SEASON 2026/2027

- Same calendar M&W
- One FIS staff
- Expected new format for our events (more compact)
